Self-realization

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Bots in the Arena are built as characters build their own. Based on an economy of sample macros, bots learn the RPG at a rate that is 1:1. To use this system of 1:1 in an arena situation make the equation follow the fibonacci sequence per level 0, 1, 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, 13, 21, 34, 55, 89, 144, 233, 377, 610, 987, 1597, 2584, 4181, 6765, 10946, 17711, 28657, 46368, 75025, 121393, 196418, 317811

Example would be:

Arena 1

round1 player +1:0 AI 0 stats.

round1 player +1:1 AI 0 stats.

round1 player +1:1 AI 0 stats.

round1 player +1:2 AI 0 stats.

round1 player +1:3 AI 0 stats.

round1 player +1:5 AI 0 stats.

etc. to infinity

Players will reach a max cap of their Arena stats and it will produce a race effect and affect the game sense of realism.

Arena 2

When players learn to be Infinite Level meaning they have max stats in 2 categories they move to Arena 2

Arena 2

Included in Championship date time status of competition duration method of scoring social media outreach search engine stats, this could include real money...

Self-realization is an expression used in Western psychology, philosophy, and spirituality; and in Indian religions. In the Western understanding it is the "fulfillment by oneself of the possibilities of one's character or personality."<sup>[1]</sup> In the Indian understanding, self-realization is liberating knowledge of the true Self, either as the permanent undying Atman, or as the absence (sunyata) of such a permanent Self.
